

Mental Health

I think mental health means getting lots of love from your parents, siblings, and friends.

Having self-confidence in yourself when you do things.

Getting play time with other children your age.

A teacher's love for you, and being safe wherever you go.